TREND: Blue & green pallets and sophisticated textures

Since Pantone just named Greenery its color of the year, expect to see strong green trends. I would say all shades of green and blue will be in the most successful pallets this year.

Likely to continue in popularity, and one of my favorite trends is customized artistic finishes on walls, wallpaper, furniture and objects including one-of-a-kind collections made by designers, specific for each client. This makes the pieces exclusive and very charming.

Other trends to look for include-Sophisticated textures that push us to touch such as velvets, leathers and suede.
